Subject: Fwd: Recovery and help to regain control over our domains - siophavards.cymru and havards.wales

Hi Hugh, Another email which went into the "bin" because a havards.wales email address had not been set up.

Chris has written to Porkbun - read below. Goodness knows what they will make of this.

As you know, Chris has always had access to the "IT Reference Document"

I sent you this afternoon so had access to all the logins etc.

So it is incorrect and offensive for Chris to imply I hadn't passed on information about the Domain Registrar - that's been there for some years along with everything else.

Again, maybe Chris wants me out, but I've always said I will continue to assist, at least in defined ways, and especially with the shareholder communication if it is so wished.

I did point out that I own the copyright to the share management software, and if Chris is going to try to push me out, I will reserve the right to negotiate on a continued licence for this.

I think Chris is more than capable of logging into the server and taking a copy of my code, so I have changed the server password so that isn't possible.

That can easily be recovered.

Best wishes - Brendan.

Hi Support,

I'm the company secretary of SHGT Community Benefit Society and we own the UK's 1st community owned hardware store here in Pembrokeshire Wales, UK.

We've had the support of a volunteer Dr. Brendan Blake for a number of years. He set up our initial website on siophavards.cymru and also managed Havards.wales for us. His time with the society has come to an end but unfortunately, he's not passed on the Admin or keys to the domains nor pass on information as to how this can be done.

Can you help with the following as we need to pass the Admin account and control of our domains on to our new support team?

*

Confirm that the domain siophavards.cymru is registered in the name of SHGT Community Benefit Society or possible Havards or is it in his name?

*

Confirm the ownership/registered keep of Havards.wales and is this registered with you.

Assist with transferring control over the domains to the rightful owners and to this account.

Your prompt help and support is appreciated. I can be contacted on +44 7770971543 or this email address or preferably secretary@havards.wales

Kind regards,

Chris Morgan

Secretary, Director.
